

Midterm season is almost upon us! To help our students prepare for exams and finish up projects and assignments the week before Spring Break, the CSU Library will have extended hours for CSU ID card-carrying CSU Students during the week of March 5.

The Academic Computing Lab located on the First Floor will be open until midnight March 5 through 9, 2017.

No other services will be available. No patrons will be allowed above the First Floor.

Only CSU students carrying CSU ID cards will be allowed in the building after 10 p.m. Patrons without CSU ID cards must leave the building. Campus Police will assist in sweeping the building prior to 10 p.m.
